

CV Klepper, Joerg

4th European Glut1DS conference, Aschaffenburg, 15/16 June 2023

Prof. Dr. Joerg Klepper

Children's Hospital Aschaffenburg, Germany

Klinik für Kinder und Jugendmedizin

Am Hasenkopf; D-63739

Aschaffenburg, Germany

Tel: 49-6021-32-3601

joerg.klepper@klinikum-ab-alz.de

Dr. Klepper is the Medical Director of Aschaffenburg Children's Hospital in Aschaffenburg, Germany. He earned his medical degree at Frankfurt/M and Würzburg University and completed his pediatric training at Würzburg and Essen University in Germany. He then completed his fellowship at Columbia University in New York City, delineating Glut1 Deficiency Syndrome (Glut1DS) at Dr. De Vivo's team back in 1997. He has continued working in the field of Glut1DS, metabolic disorders, and ketogenic dietary therapies for over 25 years and coordinated /coauthored international protocols. Dr. Klepper serves as a consultant and lecturer for pediatrics and pediatric neurology at Würzburg University. He is a member of the German Paediatric and the German Neuropediatric Society and serves on advisory boards such as Matthews Friends and the Glut1 Foundation. Recently he is part of the membership committee for the International Neurological Ketogenic Society (INKS).